There are important differences between the contributions to sustainability made along various axes of progress under the SD. Nations in the developed regions, for example, have advanced their economic performance, but have not moved as far as nations in the developing regions in terms of social and environmental progress. The world's rich nations have made considerable gains in many areas, but have not been as successful in the areas of economic progress and environmental protection as the nations in the developing regions have made during the same period.

The 1990s represented a time of intense change for the U.S. health care system. As the population aged, the demand for health care services increased. The U.S. health care system was faced with the challenge of providing high-quality care to a growing population while controlling costs. This led to the development of managed care, which is a system of health care delivery that emphasizes cost containment and quality improvement. ## Olympics bomber pleads guilty

MANILA, August 20—The United States District Court in Los Angeles has found the man charged with bombing the 1996 Summer Olympics guilty of the crime.

Shahid al-Badri, 30, was charged with conspiring to transport a bomb into the Los Angeles Olympic stadium in Southern California.

The man, identified by the FBI as a member of the Islamic Front, was charged with conspiring to transport a bomb into the Los Angeles Olympic stadium in Southern California.

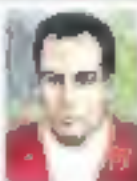

Although al-Badri denied the charge, the judge found him guilty of the crime. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

The judge found the government's evidence of al-Badri's guilt was sufficient to sustain the charge.

"The fact that I had entered into agreements with the government to provide evidence of my guilt was not a defense," al-Badri said.

Al-Badri's attorney, Robert J. M. Smith, said his client was innocent and that the government's evidence was insufficient to sustain the charge.

Japan lures as generals retreat

By the Associated Press
 TOKYO (AP) — Japan's economy is showing signs of recovery, but the country's image as a safe haven for investors is being tested by a series of natural disasters. The earthquake and tsunami that struck the coast of Japan last month has caused a series of aftershocks, and the country's infrastructure is still being damaged. The government is working to restore order and provide relief to the affected areas. The country's economy is still in a fragile state, and investors are watching closely for signs of recovery.

KLM p

By Clarissa S. Batino

KLM Royal Dutch Airlines hopes to increase its market share in the country to as much as 24 percent this year, from 18.9 percent, after securing additional flight entitlements between Manila and Amsterdam.

Bingo Braganza, marketing manager of KLM here, said the carrier was projecting a 25-percent increase in sales with the daily flights it had started in late March. The airline used to fly between Manila and Amsterdam five times a week.

KLM offers non-stop, 14-hour flights from Manila to Amsterdam daily, aboard a Boeing 777 that can accommodate 292 economy passengers and 35 business class customers.

Braganza said the airline was hitting an average load factor of 92 percent.

Aside from KLM, the only other European carrier flying to Manila is German firm Lufthansa. The two are competing fiercely with Asian and Middle Eastern carriers that offer cheaper rates.

Braganza said KLM was putting a premium on its non-stop flights, which he said, offered the shortest flight from Manila to Europe.

For its summer promo, KLM is selling round-trip business class tickets for $2,370 and economy tickets for $777. The discounted economy tickets are available for Tuesday and Thursday flights.

In 1998, there were eight airlines serving the Manila-Europe route. These were British Airways, Swissair, Air France, KLM, Alitalia, Lufthansa and Aeroflot, apart from Philippine Airlines. These carriers operated a combined 39 flights a week between Manila and seven European capitals, 12 of them non-stop services.

payments made to the Bureau of Customs.

Mandatory under the VAT law, VAT payments to the BOC were made in connection with capital imports for building its cellular network. From 2000 to 2004, Smart's payments to the customs bureau averaged at over P2 billion a year.

He added that the VAT remitted to the BOC represented advance payments of the company's obligations despite the fact that no revenue had been generated at that point in time.

Isberto stressed that the company was tax-compliant and did not shirk from its obligation to pay the correct taxes.

In fact, he said, Smart has been the recipient of several awards from the BIR in recognition of its tax contributions. These awards include: The Centennial Taxpayer Recognition Program Award (2004); The Billionaire Club Award 2004; Top Grosser Award (for Total Tax Payments) 2003; Top Grosser Award (for income tax payments) 2003; Super Grosser Award 2003.

PUBLIC HEALTH ADVISORY ON PAINKILLERS

This public health advisory is being issued in the interest of patients' information and benefit as approved by the Bureau of Food and Drugs (BFAD).

Pfizer would like to clarify that contrary to some media reports, Celebrex (celecoxib) continues to be available in the market as a safe and efficacious option for pain treatment according to the Bureau of Food and Drugs (BFAD).

On April 12, 2006, the Bureau of Food and Drugs (BFAD) issued an advisory on painkillers which includes:

- A request for Pfizer to voluntarily withdraw Celebra (celecoxib) and Dynastat (parecoxib) from the Philippines due to very rare skin reactions.
- A mandate to all pharmaceutical companies to revise product labels of prescription and over-the-counter non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs) to give additional information about potential side effects, including cardiovascular, gastrointestinal and skin reactions.

In deference to the agency's views, Pfizer agreed to voluntarily suspend the sales of Celebra and Dynastat. Considering the benefits that these products offer to patients, Pfizer is appealing the decision of BFAD.
